

WANTS TO FIND WHEN BARRINGER BECAME EXPERT

Attorney for Rapid Transit Gets Witness to Tell Entire
"Story of His Life"

Cross-examination of W. H. Barringer, expert on valuations, consumed the greater part of this morning's session of the trial of the territory's injunction suit against the Honolulu Rapid Transit and Land Company. At the request of Attorney D. L. Withington, one of counsel for the company, Mr. Barringer related his life history from start to finish, beginning with where he was born, and ending with his detail to make an inventory of the physical value of the property of the Rapid Transit.

Regarding depreciation in the value of a plant of a railroad system, Mr. Barringer testified that such depreciation begins when the system is first put into running order, and that it continues throughout the life of the plant. Mr. Barringer said that Charles R. Forbes, superintendent of public works, had detailed him to make an inventory of the Rapid Transit property.

At first he was to assist H. Gooding Field, the statistical expert, but later took all the responsibility as Mr. Field had other duties to perform, he testified. He was to use the records of the company in supplementing the data which he secured from other sources, he added.

Not All on Streets.
"Is the railway entirely on the streets?" asked Attorney Withington, referring to the Rapid Transit.

"No. Some of it is on the government reservation in Kalihi and some of it is on the company's property," answered Barringer.

"In making your inventory, did you include rights of way?"

"I did not, as that was not a portion of my order of inventory. I did not make an inventory of the real estate; I left that to someone else," said Mr. Barringer.

"Who?" inquired Attorney Withington.

"To Mr. Field," said Mr. Barringer, "I was employed at the outset to assist Mr. Field."

An objection to this line of testimony, on the ground that it had no bearing on the issue, was made by the territory.

"I want to find out when this witness became an expert valuer," argued Attorney Withington.

Further cross-examination of Mr. Barringer was to be had this afternoon.

W. B. Cattell, an expert on valuations, will arrive in Honolulu in the Matsushima tomorrow as a witness for the Rapid Transit.

AVIATOR NILES
PLANS STOP IN HAWAII TO FLY

(Special Marconigram to Nippon Jiji)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Aviator Niles, who made a number of flights over the expedition grounds after Art Smith left for the East, has accepted the invitation of the Aero Club of Japan to give a number of exhibitions in that country, and will leave here with his party on the Shinyo Maru, which sails on November 20. Niles is scheduled to make flights in Tokyo, Nagoya, Osaka and Fukuoka. It is also planned to have the aviator give a number of flights in Korea, China and Australia. Niles will stop at Honolulu on the return trip.

VESSELS TO AND
FROM THE ISLANDS

Tuesday, November 9.
SAN FRANCISCO—Arrived, Nov. 9, 1:40 p. m., S. S. Wilhelmnia, hence 1:40 p. m.
PAGO PAGO—Sailed, Nov. 8, 3 p. m. S. S. Ventura for Sydney.
Radio Messages.
S. S. VENTURA—Federal Telegraph Company was working with S. S. Ventura last night 2345 miles from Honolulu.
Mail for S. S. Manoa closes at 2:30 p. m. today. Next mail for United States, Canada and Europe will be despatched on S. S. Niagara, sailing Friday at daylight.

Coronation proper, but will represent America at the Harvest Festival of Daijosi on November 14.

CROWN PRINCE AT KYOTO FOR BIG CEREMONY

(Continued from Page 1)

All Japan is uniting today in the coronation celebration of the 224th emperor. Some time within the last few hours this afternoon Yoshihito has entered the Shunkuden palace, and prostrate before the Kashikikodoro, or three sacred treasures, has prayed for the prosperity and advancement of his reign. It is at this service that Yoshihito acquires the silver mirror, the silver sword, and the jewel.

These treasures, the Kashikikodoro, are said to have been the guard and symbols of successive emperors, since the first of the royal ancestors to whom Yoshihito reports his accession to the throne, and sovereignty of the Japanese empire.

Throughout this afternoon event is following event in rapid succession in the ceremonies. Tonight at approximately 7:45 o'clock Honolulu time, Yoshihito will formally assume the throne, announcing to the representatives of 18 different countries that he has done so.

Will End Formally.
This final ceremony occurs in the Shishin-den palace, where Yoshihito, having been presented with the scepter, shall leave his seat and rising to face the crowd of distinguished visitors, gathered, read the Imperial Declaration. Banners, loud and long will greet the faltering of the reading, thus breaking the spell of formality that has gathered day by day around the Kyoto temples.

No fairer scene could an imperial ruler wish for, say local Japanese, natives of the ancient city in which Yoshihito accepts the throne, than that which is presented in and about Kyoto.

Surrounded by high pine-clad mountains upon the north, east and west, Kyoto looks out toward the south upon an open plain. In no other part of Japan, it is said, have nature and art combined to scatter their favors with such lavish hands, within so small an area as in the old capital, Kyoto, and its neighboring hills and valleys.

Wishes Are Red and Green.
Late autumn frost have decked in red and brown the hundreds of Japanese maples that line the quiet old streets, while gray old temples, thrusting their roofs here and there above the trees, add their part to the beauty of the scene. Beyond are the hills with their labyrinth of pines, and with Arashiyama, the storm mountain, and Higashiyama, the east mountain, standing guard. It was not mere sentiment, it was love of beauty as well, that led Yoshihito back to the ancient capital of his ancestors for his coronation.

Emperor Yoshihito, the third son of the late emperor, Meiji, and was born August 13, 1879, being thus a little more than 36 years of age. He was nominated heir apparent on August 25 (after) proclaimed the crown prince, Yoshihito, on November 3, 1888, decorated with the grand order of the Imperial Chrysanthemum, and appointed to ensign in the Imperial Bodyguard Infantry on the same day. He was a lieutenant-general and vice-admiral until July 20, 1912, when he succeeded to the throne on the death of his father. On the same day he chose the name of Taisi to designate the era of his reign.

Military Parade Planned.
Upon the return of Emperor Yoshihito to the capital, Tokyo, a grand military parade is planned to take place in the Yoyogi parade ground, to be followed later by a review of Japan's entire naval forces, which will be assembled in Tokyo bay.

Daijosi, the great harvest festival, occurs annually in the lifetime of an emperor, and is a ceremony wonderfully impressive in its gorgeousness. At this feast the emperor dedicates to his royal ancestors, and to the gods of heaven and earth, the fruits of the new harvest. This ceremony will be held on November 14.

In order to correspond with calendar time, Japanese have decided to postpone their celebrations locally, until tomorrow, November 10, Tokyo time, being the date set for the coronation. In the Japanese district this afternoon banners and flags are beginning to go up in honor of the occasion, however, and throngs of Japanese crowd about the windows of the Hotel Shinko and the Nippon Jiji, reading the coronation extras.

Give "Banzai" Tonight.
Tonight at 7:45 has been figured out as the exact moment when Yoshihito will assume the throne, and at this hour Japanese all over the islands will pause in their work long enough to give a hearty "banzai" for their emperor.

Household with their hands in the dishwater, yard men, hose in hand, peddlers at their peanut carts, storekeepers, brass pounders, all Japanese, even the consuls, will join with one accord to give the shout of recognition to Yoshihito's reign.

Tomorrow will be the grandest of all Japanese celebrations held in the islands in years. All Japanese stores will be closed and Japanese working in stores of other nationalities will be given a holiday. Private families are asked especially to grant holidays to their Japanese servants if possible.

At the Japanese consulate, Nippon and Kuakini streets, a fitting ceremony will be held tomorrow morning in honor of the coronation. The program chosen is as follows:

Program at Consulate.
National anthem of Japan (played twice), Hawaiian band. The assembly will take off their hats at the commencement of the music.

Uncovering of the Imperial portrait. Salute by all present.

Reading of congratulatory address by H. J. M. Acting Consul-General Arida, chairman of the celebration committee.

Singing of the Japanese national anthem (twice) by the assembly.

Three loud banzais for the emperor, led by Acting Consul-General Arida.

Recovering of the Imperial portrait, to the strains of the national anthem played by the band.

Reading of the congratulatory address to be sent by cable.

Start of the messenger to despatch the congratulatory cable.

Filing of report of congratulatory messages with resident Japanese.

During the afternoon there will be a program of sports and general entertainment.

BY AUTHORITY.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

The President of the United States having proclaimed the 25th day of November of the year 1915 as a day of national thanksgiving to Almighty Providence that has so kindly cared for, guarded and prospered us, I urge the people of the Territory of Hawaii to join together, with the nation, in rendering praise and thanksgiving for the mercies and favors granted us.

Let us, as we need, broaden our minds, sympathies, and understandings, and seek justice for all that the scales may hang even.

While we pray for the nation of the earth, now in desperate struggle, let us trust to the inscrutable ways of the Creator and Ruler of the Universe and bow to his decision, be it as it may.

Let the people gather in their places of worship and homes, and each, as his heart and conscience dictates, give thanks, intensify and renew family affection and welcome the stranger within our gates.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the Territory of Hawaii to be affixed.

Done at the Capitol in Honolulu, this 1st day of November, A. D. 1915.

(Seal)
(Signed) LUCIUS E. PINKHAM,
Governor of Hawaii.

By the Governor,
(Signed)
WADE WARREN THAYER,
Secretary of Hawaii.
6316-11

Done at the Capitol in Honolulu, this 1st day of November, A. D. 1915.

(Seal)
(Signed) LUCIUS E. PINKHAM,
Governor of Hawaii.

By the Governor,
(Signed)
WADE WARREN THAYER,
Secretary of Hawaii.
6316-11

Done at the Capitol in Honolulu, this 1st day of November, A. D. 1915.

MANY RELIGIOUS MEETINGS MARK FESTIVAL WEEK

Five Day Series of Exercises to Commemorate Coronation
of Japan's Emperor

In accordance with the decision of the Japanese Ministers' Association at its regular meeting on October 13, there will be held a series of religious meetings, commemorative of the coronation of the Emperor of Japan, from tomorrow to next Sunday inclusive, November 10 to 14. The program for the meetings is as follows:

Wednesday, November 10.—Special commemorative service at Nuuanu Japanese church, 5 a. m. Visitation of Japanese prisoners, 3 a. m. Visitation of Japanese patients at various hospitals by a number of Japanese Christian ladies. "Coronation gifts" to Japanese patients in Molokai collected by Ladies' clubs in all Japanese churches. Union prayer meeting at River street church, 8 p. m.

Thursday, November 11.—Street meeting in the Japanese section of the city, 7:30 p. m.

Friday, November 12.—Bible study conference at Japanese Y. M. C. A., 7:30 p. m. Remarks by several Japanese lady missionaries. Address by Dr. U. Kawaguchi on "The Present Method of Biblical Study."

Saturday, November 13.—Ladies' union meeting at Japanese Y. M. C. A., 8 p. m. Principal address at the meeting will be made by Mrs. Theo. Richards. Outdoor meeting at Aala Park, 7:30 p. m.

Sunday, November 14.—Union Sunday school rally at Thomas Square, 9 a. m. Sermons: W. A. Bowen and Rev. T. Fukao. Mass meeting at the Aala Theater, 7:30 p. m. Speakers: B. M. Matsunaga, Rev. C. Nakamura and Rev. T. Hori.

afternoon banners and flags are beginning to go up in honor of the occasion, however, and throngs of Japanese crowd about the windows of the Hotel Shinko and the Nippon Jiji, reading the coronation extras.

Give "Banzai" Tonight.
Tonight at 7:45 has been figured out as the exact moment when Yoshihito will assume the throne, and at this hour Japanese all over the islands will pause in their work long enough to give a hearty "banzai" for their emperor.

Household with their hands in the dishwater, yard men, hose in hand, peddlers at their peanut carts, storekeepers, brass pounders, all Japanese, even the consuls, will join with one accord to give the shout of recognition to Yoshihito's reign.

Tomorrow will be the grandest of all Japanese celebrations held in the islands in years. All Japanese stores will be closed and Japanese working in stores of other nationalities will be given a holiday. Private families are asked especially to grant holidays to their Japanese servants if possible.

At the Japanese consulate, Nippon and Kuakini streets, a fitting ceremony will be held tomorrow morning in honor of the coronation. The program chosen is as follows:

Program at Consulate.
National anthem of Japan (played twice), Hawaiian band. The assembly will take off their hats at the commencement of the music.

Uncovering of the Imperial portrait. Salute by all present.

Reading of congratulatory address by H. J. M. Acting Consul-General Arida, chairman of the celebration committee.

Singing of the Japanese national anthem (twice) by the assembly.

Three loud banzais for the emperor, led by Acting Consul-General Arida.

Recovering of the Imperial portrait, to the strains of the national anthem played by the band.

Reading of the congratulatory address to be sent by cable.

Start of the messenger to despatch the congratulatory cable.

Filing of report of congratulatory messages with resident Japanese.

During the afternoon there will be a program of sports and general entertainment.

BY AUTHORITY.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

The President of the United States having proclaimed the 25th day of November of the year 1915 as a day of national thanksgiving to Almighty Providence that has so kindly cared for, guarded and prospered us, I urge the people of the Territory of Hawaii to join together, with the nation, in rendering praise and thanksgiving for the mercies and favors granted us.

Let us, as we need, broaden our minds, sympathies, and understandings, and seek justice for all that the scales may hang even.

While we pray for the nation of the earth, now in desperate struggle, let us trust to the inscrutable ways of the Creator and Ruler of the Universe and bow to his decision, be it as it may.

Let the people gather in their places of worship and homes, and each, as his heart and conscience dictates, give thanks, intensify and renew family affection and welcome the stranger within our gates.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the Territory of Hawaii to be affixed.

Done at the Capitol in Honolulu, this 1st day of November, A. D. 1915.

(Seal)
(Signed) LUCIUS E. PINKHAM,
Governor of Hawaii.

By the Governor,
(Signed)
WADE WARREN THAYER,
Secretary of Hawaii.
6316-11

Done at the Capitol in Honolulu, this 1st day of November, A. D. 1915.

(Seal)
(Signed) LUCIUS E. PINKHAM,
Governor of Hawaii.

By the Governor,
(Signed)
WADE WARREN THAYER,
Secretary of Hawaii.
6316-11

Done at the Capitol in Honolulu, this 1st day of November, A. D. 1915.

(Seal)
(Signed) LUCIUS E. PINKHAM,
Governor of Hawaii.

By the Governor,
(Signed)
WADE WARREN THAYER,
Secretary of Hawaii.
6316-11

Done at the Capitol in Honolulu, this 1st day of November, A. D. 1915.

(Seal)
(Signed) LUCIUS E. PINKHAM,
Governor of Hawaii.

By the Governor,
(Signed)
WADE WARREN THAYER,
Secretary of Hawaii.
6316-11

SMEAR OF PAINT ON HAT TANGLES AH LUM IN CASE

Is Taken as Evidence He Tried to Steal Chicken Belonging to Mrs. Nascimento

To paint and chickens Ah Lum, a Chinese, owes his downfall and captivity by the police. It was house paint and feathered chickens which brought Lum's undoing, however, which makes the story unusual.

Recently in an assiduous effort to catch a chicken belonging to Mrs. Nascimento, who lives at the Royal school, Ah Lum late at night chased the chicken almost to the door of the house, and when Mrs. Nascimento was awakened by the noise, fled, leaving his hat behind.

Mrs. Nascimento took the hat to the police station, where it was found to be stained with red and blue paint of a peculiar shade. Chief McDuffie sent out for several Chinese who do odd jobs of painting and have police records, and Ah Lum was brought in with an unexplained new hat and a blouse on which was red and blue paint of a shade identical with that on the hat found in Mrs. Nascimento's yard.

The woman is positive that Ah Lum is the man who tried to steal the chicken. He will be tried as soon as more evidence is collected.

Company, valued at $1000 and owned by Julia Blanco, San Francisco, Cal.

Late on Monday evening, November 8, Marcellino telegraphed his resignation to General James Withington, the resignation was accepted and notice of the clerk's retirement was made in open court on the following day. During the morning of November 2, the story of Marcellino's delinquencies leaked out. A warrant for his arrest was issued by the city attorney's office and Marcellino was taken into custody that afternoon.

Four indictments against Marcellino, all charging the embezzlement of funds which he held in trust for J. J. Zeppala, a former resident of Honolulu and now living on the mainland, were returned by the territorial grand jury last Thursday afternoon.

Marcellino was arraigned last Saturday morning. One indictment was read. Through his attorney, R. W. Breckon, Marcellino asked that plea be reserved until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. Judge Sanford fixed bond in the sum of $2500 for each of the four charges.

"Johnny" Marcellino was one of the most popular court officials in the territory and the news of his delinquencies came as a surprise and severe shock to his many friends. He has a wife and family.

Company, valued at $1000 and owned by Julia Blanco, San Francisco, Cal.

Late on Monday evening, November 8, Marcellino telegraphed his resignation to General James Withington, the resignation was accepted and notice of the clerk's retirement was made in open court on the following day. During the morning of November 2, the story of Marcellino's delinquencies leaked out. A warrant for his arrest was issued by the city attorney's office and Marcellino was taken into custody that afternoon.

Four indictments against Marcellino, all charging the embezzlement of funds which he held in trust for J. J. Zeppala, a former resident of Honolulu and now living on the mainland, were returned by the territorial grand jury last Thursday afternoon.

Marcellino was arraigned last Saturday morning. One indictment was read. Through his attorney, R. W. Breckon, Marcellino asked that plea be reserved until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. Judge Sanford fixed bond in the sum of $2500 for each of the four charges.

"Johnny" Marcellino was one of the most popular court officials in the territory and the news of his delinquencies came as a surprise and severe shock to his many friends. He has a wife and family.

Company, valued at $1000 and owned by Julia Blanco, San Francisco, Cal.

Late on Monday evening, November 8, Marcellino telegraphed his resignation to General James Withington, the resignation was accepted and notice of the clerk's retirement was made in open court on the following day. During the morning of November 2, the story of Marcellino's delinquencies leaked out. A warrant for his arrest was issued by the city attorney's office and Marcellino was taken into custody that afternoon.

Four indictments against Marcellino, all charging the embezzlement of funds which he held in trust for J. J. Zeppala, a former resident of Honolulu and now living on the mainland, were returned by the territorial grand jury last Thursday afternoon.

Marcellino was arraigned last Saturday morning. One indictment was read. Through his attorney, R. W. Breckon, Marcellino asked that plea be reserved until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. Judge Sanford fixed bond in the sum of $2500 for each of the four charges.

"Johnny" Marcellino was one of the most popular court officials in the territory and the news of his delinquencies came as a surprise and severe shock to his many friends. He has a wife and family.

Company, valued at $1000 and owned by Julia Blanco, San Francisco, Cal.

Late on Monday evening, November 8, Marcellino telegraphed his resignation to General James Withington, the resignation was accepted and notice of the clerk's retirement was made in open court on the following day. During the morning of November 2, the story of Marcellino's delinquencies leaked out. A warrant for his arrest was issued by the city attorney's office and Marcellino was taken into custody that afternoon.

Four indictments against Marcellino, all charging the embezzlement of funds which he held in trust for J. J. Zeppala, a former resident of Honolulu and now living on the mainland, were returned by the territorial grand jury last Thursday afternoon.

Marcellino was arraigned last Saturday morning. One indictment was read. Through his attorney, R. W. Breckon, Marcellino asked that plea be reserved until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. Judge Sanford fixed bond in the sum of $2500 for each of the four charges.

"Johnny" Marcellino was one of the most popular court officials in the territory and the news of his delinquencies came as a surprise and severe shock to his many friends. He has a wife and family.

Company, valued at $1000 and owned by Julia Blanco, San Francisco, Cal.

Late on Monday evening, November 8, Marcellino telegraphed his resignation to General James Withington, the resignation was accepted and notice of the clerk's retirement was made in open court on the following day. During the morning of November 2, the story of Marcellino's delinquencies leaked out. A warrant for his arrest was issued by the city attorney's office and Marcellino was taken into custody that afternoon.

Four indictments against Marcellino, all charging the embezzlement of funds which he held in trust for J. J. Zeppala, a former resident of Honolulu and now living on the mainland, were returned by the territorial grand jury last Thursday afternoon.

Marcellino was arraigned last Saturday morning. One indictment was read. Through his attorney, R. W. Breckon, Marcellino asked that plea be reserved until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. Judge Sanford fixed bond in the sum of $2500 for each of the four charges.

"Johnny" Marcellino was one of the most popular court officials in the territory and the news of his delinquencies came as a surprise and severe shock to his many friends. He has a wife and family.

Company, valued at $1000 and owned by Julia Blanco, San Francisco, Cal.

Late on Monday evening, November 8, Marcellino telegraphed his resignation to General James Withington, the resignation was accepted and notice of the clerk's retirement was made in open court on the following day. During the morning of November 2, the story of Marcellino's delinquencies leaked out. A warrant for his arrest was issued by the city attorney's office and Marcellino was taken into custody that afternoon.

Four indictments against Marcellino, all charging the embezzlement of funds which he held in trust for J. J. Zeppala, a former resident of Honolulu and now living on the mainland, were returned by the territorial grand jury last Thursday afternoon.

Marcellino was arraigned last Saturday morning. One indictment was read. Through his attorney, R. W. Breckon, Marcellino asked that plea be reserved until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. Judge Sanford fixed bond in the sum of $2500 for each of the four charges.

"Johnny" Marcellino was one of the most popular court officials in the territory and the news of his delinquencies came as a surprise and severe shock to his many friends. He has a wife and family.

Company, valued at $1000 and owned by Julia Blanco, San Francisco, Cal.

Late on Monday evening, November 8, Marcellino telegraphed his resignation to General James Withington, the resignation was accepted and notice of the clerk's retirement was made in open court on the following day. During the morning of November 2, the story of Marcellino's delinquencies leaked out. A warrant for his arrest was issued by the city attorney's office and Marcellino was taken into custody that afternoon.

Four indictments against Marcellino, all charging the embezzlement of funds which he held in trust for J. J. Zeppala, a former resident of Honolulu and now living on the mainland, were returned by the territorial grand jury last Thursday afternoon.

Marcellino was arraigned last Saturday morning. One indictment was read. Through his attorney, R. W. Breckon, Marcellino asked that plea be reserved until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. Judge Sanford fixed bond in the sum of $2500 for each of the four charges.

"Johnny" Marcellino was one of the most popular court officials in the territory and the news of his delinquencies came as a surprise and severe shock to his many friends. He has a wife and family.

Company, valued at $1000 and owned by Julia Blanco, San Francisco, Cal.

Late on Monday evening, November 8, Marcellino telegraphed his resignation to General James Withington, the resignation was accepted and notice of the clerk's retirement was made in open court on the following day. During the morning of November 2, the story of Marcellino's delinquencies leaked out. A warrant for his arrest was issued by the city attorney's office and Marcellino was taken into custody that afternoon.

TARLETON GOES TO PATTERSON LINE ON COAST

General Freight Agent of Oahu
Railway & Land Co. Will Reside on Mainland

One of Honolulu's well known men, Albert H. Tarleton, who has lived here for a number of years, is leaving this city at 4 o'clock this afternoon on the Manoa, for California, to take a position as superintendent of construction for the Patterson & Western railroad, owned by the Mineral Products Company, in which a majority of the stockholders are Honolulu men.

It is considered likely that Mr. Tarleton will become permanent general manager of the line, which extends from the company's factories to its mines. Mr. Tarleton has been connected with the freight department of the Oahu Railway & Land Company since the early days of its organization, working his way up from a minor position to that of general freight agent.

In Y. M. C. A. work, Mr. Tarleton has always taken a prominent part. For the last three years he has been a member of the Honolulu association's membership committee, and has seen the membership rise in that period of time from 1150 to 1555. He was one of the most vigorous and consistent workers in the big campaign of two years ago, when 500 new members were obtained in one day. He also has served on the swimming pool committee.

Mr. Tarleton's family have been living in California since last spring. In civic activities Mr. Tarleton has also played an active part. He has been a member of the charter convention and attended regularly that body's deliberations.

Company, valued at $1000 and owned by Julia Blanco, San Francisco, Cal.

Late on Monday evening, November 8, Marcellino telegraphed his resignation to General James Withington, the resignation was accepted and notice of the clerk's retirement was made in open court on the following day. During the morning of November 2, the story of Marcellino's delinquencies leaked out. A warrant for his arrest was issued by the city attorney's office and Marcellino was taken into custody that